Global Facility for Disaster Reduction and Recovery

- The Global Facility for Disaster Reduction and Recovery (GFDRR) is a global partnership that helps developing countries better understand and reduce their vulnerability to natural hazards and climate change.
- GFDRR is a grant-funding mechanism, managed by the World Bank, that supports disaster risk management projects worldwide.
- Working on the ground with over 400 local, national, regional, and international partners, GFDRR provides knowledge, funding, and technical assistance.

GFDRR Innovation Lab

- Use cutting-edge science and technology to make high-quality risk information available faster and at lower costs
- Develop new tools that allow decision-makers and communities to collect, share, and understand risk information, remaining responsive to their questions and needs
- Tailor our approach to support the full range of disaster risk management interventions — from preparedness to risk reduction to consideration of financial solutions
